Quarterly Overview April - June 2021

April: Make Money! Action Time Continues!

As April begins, all the planets are still moving forward, making most of this month, through April 26th, an action time. Now is the time to start and move your projects forward. There's no resistance, so you can make headway quickly. These time periods when all the planets are moving forward are relatively uncommon. They don't occur every year and often are limited to just a few weeks. This is the longest stretch I've seen in the past five years. It began February 22nd.

At the beginning of April there are opportunities to get what you want and move your projects forward (Venus sextile Mars April 1st - 10th). That cycle is also good for relationships and negotiations. At the same time the Universe is encouraging everyone to take fortunate actions (Mars trine Jupiter is in range April 1st - May 1st). In addition, at the beginning of the month there are some good days to connect with powerful people or organizations (Mercury sextile Pluto in range March 31st - April 3rd). Occasionally that cycle also reveals secret agendas or scandals. In general, this is a powerful start!

However, the cycle for mental confusion, misleading or deceptive communications, or inspiration is still in play through April 3rd. (Mercury conjunct Neptune). Use your guts to check for accuracy and truthfulness, and trust your intuition. You'll get the right answer when you do.

Make Some Money!

Fortunately there's still very good money, and potentially, new love relationships available at the beginning of the month (Sun, Venus and Chiron conjunct in Aries through April 3rd.) That's just the beginning as this is a Money Month! Strong money cycles continue through April 28th (Sun conjunct Venus in range through April 21st; Venus conjunct Uranus in range April 16th - 28th, Mercury conjunct Venus in range April 17th - 26th).

You can ride this money wave all through April if you can stay focused on these positive energies. There are other short money cycles in the first half of the month too. Even on the very last day of April, another big money cycle is coming into range (Venus trine Pluto). This is the month to make money!

Confused? Take Fortunate Actions!

As we start April, there can be confusion about which actions to take (Mars square Neptune). You may have multiple projects or opportunities beckoning you. This cycle is also associated with deceptive actions, and lowered immunity, leading to potential colds or flu. Get more rest than usual. This cycle peaks on April 9th and stays in range through April 21st.

Luckily, there are also fortunate actions to take this month (Mars trine Jupiter). You're likely to have plenty of mental energy and enthusiasm to pursue these actions, which may help you decide which ones to engage. You may be choosing between multiple, fortunate actions related to communications, data, or transportation, and technology (Mars in Gemini trine Jupiter in Aquarius). If possible, get extra help to maximize the number of fortunate actions you can pursue. Mars trine Jupiter peaks on April 16th/17th and is in range April 1st – May 2nd.

Taxes Due? You'll Get the Money!

Beginning April 6th, a cycle comes in range that's associated with debts and taxes (Venus square Pluto). This is tax season after all. This cycle peaks on April 11th and stays in range through April 17th, just in time for the April 15th tax date. Typically this cycle relates to big debts or large tax bills. This April there's plenty of help to make the payments. Good money cycles are in range from the very beginning of April.

This is not a good time to take on more debts, but you should be able to pay your taxes due to other helpful energies that come into play beginning April 7th. The first one (Venus sextile Jupiter) should bring opportunities for more money. This one peaks on April 10th and is in range April 7th – 13th.

On April 11th, Venus hands off the expansion job to the Sun and we get another cycle that can create growth (Sun sextile Jupiter). This cycle is great for promotions, travel, publishing, educational, and legal pursuits. This is also a very strong leadership cycle, especially since the Sun is in its strongest sign now (Aries, where it's exalted). Leaders create expansive opportunities with this cycle, which peaks April 15th. It stays in range through April 18th.

In addition to those good cycles, two more assist you through this period. April 8th – 11th we have a very good cycle for computations, mental stamina, and accuracy (Mercury sextile Saturn). This cycle is great for checking the accuracy of your taxes and making any needed changes. It's also a good cycle for planning and logistics.

Plus there's extra energy to get all these tasks done!

Beginning April 5th, a cycle comes in range that can provide both extra physical and mental energy (Sun in Aries sextile Mars in Gemini). This cycle peaks on April 13th and stays in range through April 21st. This suggests you'll have more energy to move your projects forward during the first two-thirds of the month than at the end of it. Take advantage of it.

Promote! Promote!

In the midst of all these good energies, this is also a great time to promote your products or services (Mercury sextile Mars and Mercury sextile Jupiter). If you're introducing a book or publishing anything, this is an exceptional period to do so. These two cycles are in range April 15th – 18th. Look at your Guide. The best of these days is April 16th, when most of these great cycles are in range. Get a custom timing if you want to maximize sales of a new product.

At the same time that it's great to promote, another cycle could indicate gossip, slander, or censorship (Mercury square Pluto). Strategically choose your words for a promotion so you don't get censored. This cycle peaks on April 17th and is in range April 14th – 20th.

New Moon on April 11th: Power Issues or Growth and Integrity?

What's getting started at the New Moon late on April 11th are power issues (Sun and Moon square Pluto), often associated with unscrupulous demands to manipulate leaders. However, leaders are strong now (Sun exalted in Aries), stronger than those trying to manipulate them (Pluto in Capricorn). If they choose to maintain their integrity (Sun and Moon sextile Jupiter) they'll easily be able to pursue growth opportunities. This set of cycles can also suggest legal remedies for leaders.

These power issues can also indicate the transformation of some leaders, including resignations, arrests, illness, or death, followed by a change to honest, expansive leaders with new ideas (Sun sextile Jupiter in Aquarius). The power issue (Sun square Pluto) peaks on April 16th. It's in range April 8th – 23rd.

This New Moon occurs right before tax time and the cycle associated with debts and taxes (Venus square Pluto) is peaking at this time. This cycle combined with Sun square Pluto (above) could also indicate that leaders are being bribed to take illegal actions. This would definitely be hidden from view (Pluto is intercepted in the second house) and may not be discovered until late June when Venus will oppose Pluto, revealing the dirty deed. If you're in a leadership position, choose the honest opportunity, and you'll come out on top.

At this New Moon, you may still feel confused about which actions to take, or you may be encountering people who attempt to take deceptive actions with you. Be alert for this! On the other hand, since this cycle (Mars square Neptune) is starting to wane, and the fortunate action cycle (Mars trine Jupiter) is increasing, you may be committed and focused on taking fortuitous projects.

There's plenty of extra energy to get those fortunate actions accomplished (Sun and Moon sextile both Mars and Jupiter, Mars trine Jupiter). Stay focused on your mission and you'll complete it in time to bring growth and rewards.

At this time it looks like the cabal may be trying to crash the stock markets (Sun, Moon and Venus in 5th house square Pluto in 2nd). However, there are others working to prop it up (Sun and Moon sextile Mars and Jupiter, Mars trine Jupiter, Venus sextile Jupiter). The bond markets are in similar straits. Although the financial markets appear chaotic at this time, it's likely to work out for the best within the next few weeks or shortly thereafter. Perhaps we're on the verge of a new financial system or changes in our currency?

Congress appears to be involved in bribery (Venus square Pluto) and creating more debt. Perhaps they're getting paid off to destroy the value of the US dollar? Either we will get a new, gold-backed currency, or the US dollar will continue to crash as more and more money is printed ($1.9 trillion in March!).

Unexpected Money and New Ideas? Sudden Love?

Unexpected money begins showing up on April 16th, right after Tax Day (Venus conjunct Uranus). Perhaps the Universe has an intention to refill your bank account? This cycle peaks on April 22nd and it stays in range through April 28th. This energy can also be associated with the beginning of an unexpected love relationship. Love at first sight? It's possible!

As the money starts flowing in, so do new ideas (Mercury conjunct Uranus). Pay attention to these new ideas as they can bring you more money (Mercury conjunct Venus). These new ideas start arriving on April 20th and may include some radical possibilities, or some practical new technologies. This cycle (Mercury conjunct Uranus) peaks on April 24th, two days after the peak of unexpected money.

You may be off and running with both money and new ideas. However, the Universal Manager (Saturn) is about to have his say. Do you have some bills to pay, or an obligation you haven't met? Shortly after the money arrives, you're likely to be reminded of this (Venus square Saturn). This cycle is in range April 18th – 30th. It peaks on April 24th. Save some of the unexpected money for these bills. That new love may also have a serious obstacle or limitation.

In addition, those new ideas now need to prove their worth (Mercury square Saturn). Ideas that "don't hold water" will be tossed aside. However, the ones that provide new structures or processes, perhaps via new technologies, will continue to be supported (Saturn in Aquarius) after the tough evaluation. This cycle is in range April 21st – 27th. It peaks April 25th.

By that date (April 25th), you're likely to know which ideas to pursue, and they're likely to bring you unexpected money in the future (Mercury conjunct Venus). Some of these projects may be fairly quick to do. Uranus catches up to this same degree (13 degrees 46 minutes Taurus) by June 30th. You may have a new product ready in time for 4th of July or shortly thereafter. Be alert for these possibilities in late April. This cycle (Mercury conjunct Venus) is in range April 17th – May 5th. It peaks on April 25th.

Full Moon on April 26th: Surprise! Surprise!

What's coming to light at the Full Moon on April 26th are some surprising decisions or actions by leaders (Sun conjunct Uranus and Moon opposite Uranus). With the Sun and Uranus in the sign of Taurus, this could be related to financial matters, a change to the financial system, or to the currency. Whatever these surprising decisions might be, there also appears to be a lot of pushback (Sun, Moon, Venus and Mercury all square Saturn). Possibly a new technology will require structural or process changes before it can be fully utilized.

Another cycle indicates entrenched deception, possibly related to the condition of the financial system or the US dollar (Moon sesquiquadrate Neptune, with Moon ruling 8th house). Another possibility is the public may be misinformed about the financial impact of the $1.9 trillion stimulus package. Plus the Sun semi-square Neptune, suggests leaders may mislead or misdirect the public. Be cautious about what you believe.

The bond markets appear to be in trouble, but may have a delayed response (Saturn in the 2nd house, with four planets square Saturn, and Saturn intercepted). It's also possible that the bond markets are challenged without the public correctly understanding the signals. The stock markets also look somewhat down at this time. Some investors may have sold stocks to pay taxes.

There are underlying, "minor" cycles (meaning they have a small range) which form an unusual pattern (Pluto bi-septile Sun and Uranus, Pluto tri-septile Mars, Pluto and Mars bi-septile the Midheaven, Sun and Pallas Athena tri-septile the Midheaven, Mars septile Uranus). At this time, Mars, the warrior, is in Cancer (detriment) and doing things he shouldn't be doing. Pluto is preparing to go retrograde the next day – a signal that the cabal are doing things they shouldn't be doing.

This unusual pattern could suggest an attack on the financial system of the United States from another country (Mars in the 7th house) while coordinated and supported by the cabal here. (Pluto is in first house, very close to the second, house, suggesting they may have paid for the attack.) With Mars septile Uranus (less than 1/3 of a degree of exact!) and Uranus in Taurus, this could be an, attack on stock markets (Uranus in the 5th house), banking, or the bond markets (square Saturn in the 2nd house). Who could the foreign country be? China? Italy? Both were involved in the Election fraud.

There's still a little time to take fortunate actions, but this energy is receding (Mars trine Jupiter). It's in play through May 2nd, so hurry if you have something to promote or introduce.

Pluto Goes Retrograde April 27th

Pluto represents power, transformation, death, and the cabal. On April 27th, this planet begins moving "backwards" through October 6th, when it begins to move forward again. During that time, Pluto moves back to 24 degrees 18 minutes of Capricorn from 26 degrees 48 minutes. At the time it starts to retrograde, it's within $\frac{3}{4}$ of a degree of the USA Pluto. That's a significant cycle, and it will peak for the first time on February 20th, 2022.

A Pluto return is seldom experienced by an organization or individual, as it occurs approximately 245 – 248 years after the birth of a country, company, or individual. At the moment, humans don't live that long, and very few companies exist for that long. Generally, only some countries will experience it.

For the USA, this Pluto return is likely to indicate the reset of the country's power. There's likely to be a "tug-of-war" for that power from February 2022 – December 2022. In late September 2023, there'll be another attempt to reset the power in the USA. That will be the last one. This year and next are pivotal for the future of the United States.

During Pluto retrograde, the cabal are in retreat mode, planning their next moves. That doesn't mean they aren't taking action. It's just not as obvious. The USA is also reconsidering its power and how to best utilize it to protect the country. On a personal level, Pluto retrograde is a time to work on inner transformation. It can also be used to transform or remodel nearly anything.

Exciting Changes? Time for a Retreat? Too Much Work?

Beginning on April 22nd, a cycle associated with exciting changes comes into play (Sun conjunct Uranus). This is a time to do something new or different. Often there's a strong feeling of restlessness and it's hard to focus on regular duties. It's better to plan to do something different. This cycle is also associated with extra electrical energy. Do your best to get some exercise, so it doesn't build up in your body. This cycle peaks on April 30th and it stays in range through May 8th.

On a macro level, this cycle indicates surprising changes from leaders. It can also suggest the release of new technologies, and changes to the financial system or the currency (Uranus in Taurus).

Right before that cycle peaks, from April 28th – May 1st, another cycle suggests enjoying movies, art, photography, music, or any type of inspirational or spiritual stories (Mercury sextile Neptune). A meditation retreat could be ideal. That would certainly be different! This cycle peaks on April 29th.

In addition, two other cycles suggest this time period could be ideal for a spiritual retreat (Mercury trine Pluto and Venus sextile Neptune). Between April 28th and May 5th, Mercury trine Pluto provides an excellent energy for introspection and understanding situations at a deeper level. This cycle peaks on May 2nd. It's also a great energy for connecting with the masses or powerful people.

In addition, yet another cycle suggests this is an opportunity for a spiritual retreat (Venus sextile Neptune). It can also be used for artistic pursuits, including music, films, photography, and artwork of any type. It's also a time when people often donate money or forgive others. This cycle is in range April 30th – May 4th and it peaks on May 2nd.

Right behind the cycle to do something different is another cycle associated with extra workload (Sun square Saturn). This energy is in range from April 25th – May 10th and it peaks on May 3rd. Do your best to manage your time so you get the work done and still have time to do something different or unusual. Can someone or a new technology assist you with part of it? Now is a good time to create that situation.

May: Eclipses Begin!

Take the Weekend Off!

As we start May, the energies to do something different are still closely in range until they dissipate on May 8th (Sun conjunct Uranus). Unusual actions by leaders may still be occurring, and you may find yourself restless. This is not a great time to get a lot of work done, although it will definitely beckon (Sun square Saturn). It's better to reinvigorate yourself and get assistance from others if you need it to complete your duties. With good planning, you may have finished your obligations so you can enjoy this time.

This is also an excellent time to do research, and communicate with powerful companies/individuals or the masses. It can also be used well for introspection, transforming your thoughts (which will transform whatever you think about), and get to the bottom of any agenda. (Mercury trine Pluto, peaks May 2nd and in range through May 5th.) It also works well for a retreat.

In addition, another cycle (Mercury square Jupiter) may put the travel bug into you, with a desire to explore. It can also mean that you'll do a lot of talking, perhaps about philosophical topics. This cycle is in range April 29th – May 7th. It peaks on May 3rd. Yet another cycle is lovely for romance, forgiveness, ocean walks, music and movies, as well as spiritual endeavors (Venus sextile Neptune, in range April 30th – May 4th).

At the beginning of May, work and obligations are definitely asking for your attention (Sun square Saturn peaks May 3rd and is in range through May 10th). Consider finishing that work between May 3rd and May 10th during the 3rd Quarter Moon, so you can take off the weekend of May 1st.

Accidents? Wounding? There's Help!

Beginning April 29th, a cycle comes in range that can be associated with accidents or wounding, especially emotional wounding (Mars in Cancer square Chiron in Aries). This is a situation in which an emotional attack can lead to an accident, especially if someone is angry. This energy gets in close range (within 3 degrees) on May 6th and peaks on May 11th. It stays in range through May 23rd, but is lessening in intensity.

On May 6th, a cycle associated with explosive or breakthrough energies comes in range (Mars sextile Uranus). This cycle can either worsen or lessen the potential for accidents and wounding. Used well, this energy supports having a breakthrough by making a different choice. In this case, it likely indicates making a different emotional choice (Mars in Cancer). This cycle also has the potential to become explosive — in some cases that IS the breakthrough—which can increase the potential for accidents. This energy peaks May 11th, and stays in range through May 17th.

On May 7th, another cycle comes in range that's helpful to defuse any issues and manage the situation in a practical manner (Mercury trine Saturn). This cycle peaks on May 12th and stays in range through May 19th. Fortunately this cycle is helpful for most of the time when potential accidents can occur. This energy is also excellent for planning purposes, including logistics, managing workloads, and strategic planning.

Lots of Money!

Beginning April 30th, a cycle comes in play that's associated with lots of money (Venus trine Pluto). This cycle can indicate that you're ready to spend a lot of money, and/or you could make a lot of money. Both are possible. This cycle is also associated with passionate love, in case that's available.

Often this cycle indicates that very big money deals are being made by very large businesses. These are usually deals worth billions, or at least many millions of dollars. If you're looking for money, such as a loan or venture capital, aim for a deal to complete near the beginning of this cycle. This energy peaks on May 6th, and stays in range through May 11th. Notice that a lot of this cycle occurs during the 3rd Quarter Moon (May 3rd – part of 11th). It's better to sign deals on April 30th or May 1st.

In addition, another big money cycle peaks shortly after this one on May 8th (Venus square Jupiter). However, this cycle is associated with overspending. Depending on your type of business, you might make a fair amount of money with this, particularly if you're in the restaurant or entertainment arenas. This cycle is in range from May 1st – 14th.

New Moon on May 11th: Clear Mind or Angry?

What's getting started at the New Moon on May 11th are romantic relationships, artistic and musical endeavors, new images (graphic design, films, videos, TV) and spiritual insights (Sun and Moon conjunct and sextile Neptune, peaks May 12/13, in range May 9th – 16th).

This New Moon has some breakthrough energy (Mars sextile Uranus peaks May 11th, in range May 6th – 17th). You could choose to break one of your patterns and make a new choice, especially by choosing a different emotional response. You could also choose to wound others, yourself, or have an accident (Mars square Chiron). A breakthrough is a much better idea!

Fortunately, this New Moon also has very practical, organized, and strategic thinking associated with it (Mercury trine Saturn, peaks on May 12th, in range May 7th – 19th). Plus both those planets are sextile Chiron, helping you choose a better response to an emotional wounding. If there's an outburst, you'll likely understand the source of it and how to handle it. (Mercury sextile Chiron peaks May 10th, in range May 8th – 12th.)

At this time, leaders and the public are empowered, either by their own choices, or by others who are influential and powerful (Sun and Moon trine Pluto, in range May 10th – 24th, peaks May 17th). The stock markets look stable and may have had an increase in the previous week (Mercury trine Saturn, Sun and Moon trine Pluto, Venus trine Pluto). The bond markets appear to be in recovery mode after some recent chaos (Venus square Jupiter). Recovery is likely to take a lot more time.

Jupiter Moves into Pisces: More Rain? Inflation?

On May 13th, Jupiter tiptoes into the sign of Pisces and will remain there only until July 28th. More precipitation and higher inflation are on the way! This is a very good sign for Jupiter, as it was the original ruler of Pisces and now shares that position with Neptune.

Jupiter is the planet associated with growth and abundance. No matter what's happening, it makes everything bigger, even catastrophes. Pisces is a water sign, associated with the oceans. More rain is likely with Jupiter in Pisces. Will farmers be happy about this? It depends on how much they get!

In economic situations, this placement could suggest a higher amount of inflation. However, next year is when inflation will be much stronger, as Jupiter and Neptune meet in Pisces on April 12th, 2022. That cycle comes in range at the end of February 2022. We're already seeing some inflation and Jupiter is still in Aquarius. It's primarily due to the devaluation of the US dollar (Venus conjunct Neptune in March), propelled by the $1.9 trillion Covid bill that was passed.

Jupiter will get only 2 degree Pisces when it begins to retrograde and move back to Aquarius again. On July 28th it re-enters Aquarius and will be there through December 28th. The focus on growth will shift back to new technologies then.

Blue Communications Begins May 14th Prepare for Mercury Retrograde!

With Blue Communications beginning on May 14th, it's only a short two weeks until Mercury retrograde begins on May 29th. Once we're in this time period, it's too late to outrun the retrograde. Mercury is already in the area it's going to retrace.

The best course of action now is to double-check all details for accuracy, so you catch your mistakes before they get out the door. You'll be blue if you don't! If you remember to do this, you'll save yourself hours of frustration from rescheduling appointments or meetings when you find and quickly have to fix your mistakes. (By that time they're a crisis.)

If you manage projects, Mercury retrograde is the time when you typically discover your mistakes and have to fix them. This is a natural slowdown in the project, which can make the outcome stronger. During Blue Communications, if you slow down and prevent the errors, you'll have enough time to catch up and get the project on schedule.

Blue Communications is also the time to back-up all computer systems (not just your documents) and ensure your car is in good running order. If your car is making funny noises, get it fixed right away! Once Mercury retrograde starts, many cars will need repairs and you'll be waiting in a long cue.

Power, Money, and Control

Beginning May 10th and peaking on May 17th, leaders gain in power, often via support from important influencers, or authoritative organizations. This cycle helps leaders accomplish important projects and overcome challenges. These leaders are practical by nature (Sun in Taurus), and they focus on getting strategic support from others.

At about the same time, two other financial cycles are peaking, and helpful in managing funding for the projects (Venus sextile Chiron and Venus trine Saturn). The first of these cycles comes in range on May 14th (Venus trine Saturn) and sets up the strategic management of the money needed for projects. You might not have as much money as you want at this point. However, you should have enough. This cycle peaks on May 19th and stays in range through May 25th.

The second cycle (Venus sextile Chiron) brings in a little more money and makes the financial situation a bit more relaxed. You don't need to keep your eye on every penny in order to make your payments, but you can't really overspend either. This cycle peaks on May 18th and is in range May 15th – 20th. Between these three cycles, leaders should get enough funding and power to accomplish their goals.

Planning to Expand? Now is Not the Time!

Beginning May 13th, you may be tempted to expand or over-expand. Some great, grandiose ideas may be calling to you. Yet the Universe is saying, "No, not now!" (Sun square Jupiter). We're getting ready for Mercury retrograde, when we'll be in a rethink period. Right before that starts, on May 26th, there's a Lunar Eclipse (see below) when you might be getting new hunches or visions of what you should pursue.

In addition, another cycle suggests that you may be deceived by others or very confused between May 15th and July 11th (Mercury square Neptune). This cycle stays exact for a very long time due to Mercury retrograde, emphasizing that you need extra time to reconsider your situation. Clarity may not come until July 11th, when Mercury finally moves past this cycle for the third time. Be patient in making new plans. Better ideas are ahead.

The expansion cycle (Sun square Jupiter) peaks on May 21st, and stays in range through May 29th, taking you to the rethink period (Mercury retrograde). Well before then, you should have plenty of questions and doubts about the best course of action to take. Start researching your questions and doubts.

Saturn Retrograde Begins: Time to Restructure

On May 23rd, Saturn begins its retrograde process and continues to move backwards through October 11th. Saturn is the planet that represents structure, process, and management. When this planet retrogrades, we reconsider organizational and structural changes, management styles, and process modifications. In your home life, you may decide to redistribute the work load, or consider a remodel.

Saturn retrograde is also associated with streamlining anything. It's great for cleaning out closets, garages, or storage units, or clearing debris from your property. If you have too much "stuff", this cycle will assist you in determining what to keep and what to let go. New technologies may relieve you of needing older ones.

Saturn continues to stay in Aquarius throughout 2021 and 2022. While Saturn is retrograde it moves back closer to its square with Uranus. That cycle will peak again June 14th, and then a third time on December 24th. This retrograde gives you an opportunity to reconsider which structures or processes may need a much bigger overhaul or a radical change.

Full Moon, Lunar Eclipse May 26th: Follow Your Hunch!

A Full Moon, Lunar Eclipse occurs on May 26th at 7:15 am Eastern time. This is an unusually good eclipse, which occurs at 5 degrees Sagittarius 26 minutes. If you have planets or personal points in your chart between 4 to 7 degrees of Sagittarius or Gemini, this will definitely impact you. It may also impact you if you have planets from 2 degrees to 8 degrees of Sagittarius and Gemini.

Remember that all eclipses have a 60 day window (+/- 30 days of the actual eclipse) when eclipse events can occur. This eclipse window is from April 26th through June 26th.

The primary meaning of this eclipse (Saros cycle) is related to unexpected flashes of intuition, psychic hunches, predictive dreams, and visionary ideas. It's a good idea to follow your hunch or vision! The secondary meaning of this eclipse is related to how you play the game. Your integrity will be vital to the outcome of your situation. By maintaining your honesty, you get your deserved rewards. Play by the rules, even if there are initial challenges or sacrifices.

What's coming to light at this Full Moon, but may not be seen right away, is entrenched anger from the public (Moon sesquiquadrate Mars—very close to exact). Leaders appear a bit irritated (Sun semi-square Mars), but it's nothing in comparison to the public. Are workers going on strike? (Moon in 6th house). If so, leaders are behind closed doors, planning their response (Sun in 12th house).

The public anger may be due to a financial issue (Venus square Neptune) and confusion or deception related to that (Mercury square Neptune). Whatever is occurring, there's not enough money, or the public has been promised something they didn't get. The money shortage (Venus square Neptune) comes in range May 22nd and peaks on May 27th. It stays in range through June 2nd. This cycle can also indicate deception or disappointment in relationships or love.

On the other hand, another cycle indicates there's interest in taking inspired actions (Mars trine Neptune). This might indicate that the public is getting organized to take action regarding their anger. This cycle came in range May 19th and it peaks on May 30th/31st depending on your time zone. It stays in range through June 11th, during the first half of Mercury retrograde.

In addition, another cycle suggests even more anger is brewing (Mars opposite Pluto). This cycle is notorious for transforming your motivations until your actions are transformed. This cycle also suggests that certain groups are getting organized and could be planning violence. This cycle comes in range on May 25th and stays in range through June 16th. This is most of the Mercury retrograde period. Perhaps it dissipates under reconsideration?

Stock markets look like they're dissolving and headed down. (Venus square Neptune). This could also be an indicator that the US dollar is crashing in value. Perhaps this is why the public is so upset? Be sure to have some silver and gold coins before this time! That's your safest way to maintain the value of your money—change it to gold and silver.

Mercury Retrograde: May 29th – June 22nd Confusion or Deception? Both?

On May 29th Mercury begins moving "backwards" (retrograde) through June 22nd. This Mercury is in Gemini the entire period, a sign in which Mercury is strong (in rulership). However, Mercury is square Neptune the entire period, which indicates either confusion or deception. Are you being misled? Do you simply misunderstand the details (very possible!)? Or are you confused about the potential choices you have and unsure which one to take? All are possible.

At the time Mercury goes retrograde on May 29th, Venus is coming in range of a trine to Jupiter, creating more potential for a lot of money to come in. That cycle peaks on June 3rd. It may be less money than you're hoping for though, because Mercury is very slow at this time and that slows down transactions.

In addition, the Sun is coming into a trine with Saturn at this time, suggesting leaders are taking responsible actions now. This cycle also peaks on June 3rd. Will these two cycles alleviate some of the confusion? Not likely. Remember we don't get completely past the confusion or deception until July 11th. Until then, just realize you won't have clarity. Wait!

June: Rethink, Redo! + Another Eclipse

As June begins, Mercury has just turned retrograde a few days earlier on May 29th. There's a lot of rethinking and redoing ahead! Keep in mind that this entire retrograde through July 11th, has plenty of confusion, misleading communications, and outright deception (Mercury square Neptune). Be careful what you believe! It's better not to make important decisions until this passes in mid-July. This confusion cycle peaks for the second time on June 5th, but due to the retrograde, it remains in range through July 11th.

June also begins with an entrenched power issue (Sun sesquiquadrate Pluto), which peaks on June 1st. This may be the continuation of an old issue. Fortunately, it doesn't last long, as it's only in range May 29th – June 3rd. At the same time, leaders and managers have a lot of support, and they make responsible choices in their policies (Sun trine Saturn—peaks June 3rd and stays in range through June 10th). Whatever power issues come up will be handled skillfully.

As luck would have it, June also begins with a lot of money (Venus trine Jupiter peaks June 3rd, stays in range through June 9th). This cycle represents abundant money, fun, and love. With Jupiter in one of his own signs (original ruler of Pisces), he's feeling strong. However, Mercury is very slow during most of this cycle, and it represents transactions. So perhaps the money will be delayed a bit? Fun is also a big part of this cycle. Find a time to party or play.

Anger? Transforming Your Actions? Changing Your Competitive Focus?

Beginning May 25th, and peaking June 5th, a cycle associated with anger and transforming your motivations comes into play (Mars opposite Pluto). This cycle can be associated with destructive actions and rage. However, it's best used to transform your motivations, leading to transforming your actions. In the business world, you may discover a serious competitive threat to your market share, leading you to take new steps to maintain it. This cycle is in range through June 16th, but leads to another set of competitive challenges.

Not even a week later, on June 21st, two major challenges come in range, which may also demand changes in how you market your products or services (Mars opposite Saturn and Mars square Uranus). These cycles could indicate a major shift is needed in technology either as part of your products or to sell them. It's also possible a new market should be approached. Your current market may be saturated, and you may need to address a new segment, a new location, or a completely new arena that could use your products.

These changes also want a plan. No shooting from the hip! Do enough research that you can list out the most important tasks, who will do them, and by when. You'll need this plan to get the green light from the Universe. Otherwise, you'll be stopped at every turn as you discover a new obstacle. It's easier to write the plan, which allows you to see which steps are needed.

These two cycles peak on July 1st (Mars opposite Saturn – make a plan) and July 3rd (Mars square Uranus – the competitive threat, which can be explosive). Write your plan by July 10th, the last day Mars opposite Saturn is in range. The other cycle stays in range through July 15th.

On a personal level, these three cycles can bring up a lot of anger, and major changes can be required. With Mars, the warrior, in the fire sign of Leo, these energies are volatile and explosive. However, it's possible that the other cycle (Mars opposite Saturn) will successfully squelch any explosions, or at least dampen them considerably. The best use of this explosive energy is to have a breakthrough and make a new choice instead of maintaining your usual patterns.

Solar Eclipse (New Moon) on June 10th:

On June 10th a Solar Eclipse (New Moon) occurs at 6:54 AM Eastern time / 3:54 AM Pacific time. This eclipse occurs at 19 degrees Gemini 47 minutes. It's an unusually good eclipse, with a primary meaning associated with flashes of intuition, psychic hunches, predictive dreams and visionary ideas. Following your hunch or intuition will pay off!

The secondary meaning of this eclipse is related to having numerous choices. However, each choice has a price. Some choices will support you more than others, so choose carefully. If you find you don't like your choices, you can choose something else, if you can afford it. Notice that the overwhelming options and choices also correspond to the confusion everyone is in at this time (Mercury retrograde square Neptune).

If you have a planet or personal point between 18 – 21 degrees of Gemini or Sagittarius, this eclipse will definitely impact you. If you have a planet or personal point in your chart within 4 degrees of this eclipse (15 degrees – 24 degrees in Gemini or Sagittarius) it may impact you. Keep in mind that an eclipse event can occur up to 30 days before or after the actual eclipse. For this eclipse that range is May 10th – July 10th.

This eclipse especially impacts eastern Canada and parts of Russia. It also impacts Europe, especially northern Europe, plus Mongolia, and some parts of China. These areas of the world may be in the news around the eclipse.

What's getting started at the New Moon on June 10th are hidden secrets, confusion, and/or deceit (Sun, Moon and Mercury all conjunct in the 12th house, all intercepted, and all square Neptune). Whatever is happening, it's not likely we'll hear the truth about it for quite some time. Nice cover stories are the order of the day (Neptune in the 10th house).

At this time Jupiter, the planet of growth and abundance, is in Pisces, trine the USA Venus, helping the US economy. There also appears to be some growth occurring in the eclipse chart (Jupiter in Pisces trine the ASC in early Cancer), but the peak of it seems to be over.

Stock markets are mixed at this time. There are some financial challenges occurring (Venus square Chiron) suggesting a financial downturn in the markets. This cycle peaks on June 12th and remains in range through June 18th.

Fortunately there are also opportunities for unexpected money (Venus sextile Uranus, in range June 10th – 15th), which should help stabilize the stock markets a bit. It may seem somewhat erratic though. At this time, Venus is also in the sign of Cancer, where she's been conjunct the USA Jupiter and USA Venus. She's about to conjunct the USA Sun and then the USA Mercury. All these cycles are helpful for the US economy and stock markets, though they are short-lived (through June 23rd).

At this time, the cycle associated with rage and transforming your motivations/actions is starting to wane (Mars opposite Pluto almost 3 degrees separated). However, the cycle associated with structural changes (Saturn square Uranus) is about to peak in the next four days. A lot of work may be due at this time or major changes may be needed.

Looking for Clarity? Mark Your Calendar for June 10th!

Shortly after the Solar Eclipse occurs, we get those rare moments of clarity when the Sun and Mercury meet within 17 minutes of each other. This cycle (known as cazimi) indicates a time when you may realize the importance of a detail or information that you may have either ignored or misunderstood. It provides clarity regarding your situation.

Prior to and shortly after this time, Mercury is in the "blind spot", where it cannot be seen due to the brightness of the Sun. So it's easy to miss or misunderstand important information and not take it into consideration. The cazimi cycle (Sun and Mercury within 17 minutes of each other) brings clarity and understanding regarding that information or situation. However, it doesn't last long.

For the Pacific time zone, this cycle occurs on June 10th between 4:28 PM on June 10th – 1:57 AM on June 11th. For the Eastern time zone, this cycle occurs between 7:28 PM on June 10th – 4:57 AM on June 11th. If you're sleeping during most of this time, give you subconscious mind a command to bring you clarity while you sleep regarding a situation. You can use a command such as, "Subconscious mind, tonight while I sleep and dream, bring me clarity and understanding regarding (X situation). Ensure that I remember it upon awakening." Repeat it three times before you go to sleep. You can use this tool anytime. It may work better though on that night.

Keep in mind that this cycle is occurring as the Sun and Mercury are square Neptune, and confusion is occurring. In this case, using your intuition will serve you well, as logic may be used to create the confusion and misleading information.

Confused Leaders? Or Deceptive Leaders?

Beginning in mid-May, when the first Mercury square Neptune comes into range, there's a strong potential for misleading information to be disseminated. That cycle can also indicate mental confusion. The question is whether the confusion is deliberate or unintended. This cycle stays in range through July 11th, suggesting a clear need to tune into your intuition in order to get the truth. The media may be lying to you.

Then beginning on June 6th, a second cycle associated with either confused or deceptive leaders comes into range (Sun square Neptune). This cycle can also indicate that leaders have a vision that they're unable to articulate to others in a clear manner. That's likely why they appear confused or confusing to others. They need more time to digest their ideas.

However, considering the worldwide situation we're in, these cycles together likely suggest that our political leaders are being deceptive. They have their reasons for not telling the truth, but in general, they're probably not good ones. With both the Sun and Mercury square Neptune, it's likely that leaders are in cahoots for some nefarious purpose. Keep your antenna up! This confused or deceptive leadership cycle peaks on June 13th and stays in range through June 21st.

Structural or Process Changes? Working Very Hard?

On June 14th, the second peak of the cycle associated with structural or process changes occurs (Saturn square Uranus). These two planets are the co-rulers of the sign of Aquarius and they're having a fight about which structures and processes need changing. You may be watching this fight at work and/or home. This cycle is in range the entire year, so this is likely to be an ongoing debate.

Sometimes this cycle is associated with an intolerable situation that must change. At other times you may be working very hard in order to make a change. This cycle peaks the last time late on December 23rd. It may take until then to fully resolve the situation. At this stage you may try a new structure or process to test how well it works.

From an economic perspective, this cycle is challenging. However, after entering the Age of Aquarius December 21st, 2020, this cycle is needed to refocus the economy in new ways. Newer technologies should be released or revealed during the Age of Aquarius, and old structures need changing in order to bring them in and make them functional.

Two Helpful Cycles! Taking on Debt?

Beginning June 15th, two helpful cycles come in range. The first one is terrific for raising donations, working on artistic pursuits or graphic designs, and enjoying art, music, movies, and spiritual activities (Venus trine Neptune). It's also a very romantic energy, and great for dates! In business, this cycle is associated with more money moving through the economy and upgrading graphics. It peaks on June 21st and stays in range through June 26th. Since this cycle peaks on the Summer Solstice, these energies will stay with us throughout Q3, until the Fall Equinox on September 22nd.

The second helpful cycle is related to high-growth, exploration, and expansion in general (Sun trine Jupiter). It's often great for travel or educational pursuits. It can also be useful for healing purposes. In business, this cycle is associated with a leader who grows the company in a sustainable manner. It can also bring in good revenue and it can provide protection. This cycle peaks on June 23rd and it's in range June 15th – 30th. It's also close to peak during the Summer Solstice, so high growth opportunities will be with us in the next quarter.

Both of these cycles peak close to when Mercury moves forward on June 22nd. Mercury is stopped at that point, not moving at all, and that suggests that transactions are quite slow. For this reason, the effects of these cycles may be delayed into July. However, the promise of these cycles should show up in June.

That's important to realize, as yet a third cycle can suggest either a very large payment is due, or you may be taking on a new debt (Venus opposite Pluto). The stock markets may respond by going down. However the other two helpful cycles may offset this somewhat, though that help may be delayed. That extra growth from Sun trine Jupiter is needed!

This cycle can also suggest power issues in relationships. The romance from a few days ago may disappear as this cycle strengthens. The only true resolution is to have equal power in the relationship. This cycle comes in range on June 18th and peaks on June 23rd.

Jupiter Retrograde Begins June 20th

Jupiter begins moving "backwards" (retrograde) on June 20th, and continues this direction until October 18th, when it stops to go direct. In business, Jupiter represents the marketing and promotional efforts of a company, basically the steps needed to grow a company. When Jupiter is retrograde, businesses are in the process of preparing their next promotional efforts.

This may include preparing a new product/service, preparing ads, banners, writing articles or blogs, training new sales people, or taking steps to expand into a new market. If you need new structures in order to expand your business, that should have shown up earlier this year, at least in May or by mid-June (Saturn square Uranus, Mars square Uranus).

When Jupiter goes retrograde on June 20th, it's at 2 degrees 11 minutes Pisces, almost exactly trine the USA Venus, which is at 2 degrees 43 minutes Cancer. This suggests that the US is headed toward greater prosperity, but some further tweaks and changes are needed to create it. Jupiter will get to the trine with the USA Venus six months later on January 11th, 2022.

June 20th is also the Summer Solstice, when the Sun enters the sign of Cancer. For details about that, see the article, Summer Solstice: Preview of Q3.

Mercury Moves Forward June 22nd

On June 22nd, Mercury stops moving, so it can turn around and start moving forward again. As this occurs, Mercury is stopped! This is an uncomfortable condition for Mercury and us, as communications and travel slows down considerably.

In addition, Mercury still needs to move forward through the area it just retraced, so you have until July 7th to complete any fixes you're still finishing. Mercury moves into new territory on July 7th, so ideally you'll be ready to do the same.

Keep in mind that the confusion or deception cycle is still in play as Mercury moves forward. It peaks for the last time on July 6th and it stays in range through July 11th. Be careful what you believe, and wait until the confusion becomes clarity before making any important decisions.

Full Moon on June 24th Growth? Or War?

What's coming to light at the Full Moon on June 24th are opportunities for growth (Sun trine Jupiter and Moon sextile Jupiter). However, it looks like the US debt is also highlighted in a big way (Venus in the 10th house, conjunct MC, opposite Pluto), which may mean other countries have lost patience with the US printing money. Combined, these cycles could be a strong signal that the price of gold will go up. Venus is still in range of her trine to Neptune, which is great for money printing or even money laundering. Perhaps the US will pull another rabbit out of the hat?

At this time, the major cycles associated with explosive energies, and needed changes to compete in business are in range (Mars square Uranus and Mars opposite Saturn). These are described more fully in the article on page 8 related to changing your competitive focus.

In the Full Moon chart, these cycles could also indicate major issues with an attack from a foreign country (Uranus in the 7th house square Mars in the 10th, Mars rules the 7th house). There could be military action taken to protect the country (Mars in the 10th house opposite Saturn in the 4th house). In this chart, the foreign country appears to attack the country from within it. The Mars-Uranus energies are explosive, which could indicate an attack with bombs or guns.

In addition, another cycle indicates entrenched, deceptive actions by the foreign country (Mars sesquiquadrate Neptune). This cycle is very exact, indicating the seriousness of this situation.

With Saturn in Aquarius, the military action from the US could include or primarily be a cyber strike against the foreign country. These potential war cycles (Mars square Uranus and Mars opposite Saturn) peak July 1st and 3rd, so you may not see any immediate action. The Solar Return for the USA chart also looks strongly like war is occurring. That chart has an impact for a year, though the war could end much sooner.

Remember that deceptive or confusing communications are still in play. Very likely we won't know what's really going on! The very next day on June 25th, Neptune goes retrograde, making the fog of war even worse. Whatever information we're able to get is likely to be wrong.

The stock markets look erratic and jumpy, with multiple challenges (Mars square Uranus and Mars opposite Saturn). This is likely related to the potential war issue with a foreign country. However, there are still some growth cycles helping to push up the markets (Sun trine Jupiter and Moon sextile Jupiter). Considering the US debt issue as well, investors are likely to be spooked.

Neptune Goes Retrograde June 25th: Redo Finances and Company Image

As Neptune goes retrograde on June 25th, the US appears to be preparing for war, or possibly beginning to fight a war. The fog of war is strong as this occurs, with Mercury still square Neptune peaking on July 6th for the third time, and staying in range through July 11th. Be careful what you believe!

Neptune retrograde continues until December 1st, when it stops to move forward again. Generally during this cycle businesses reconsider their financial position and overall finances, to determine what actions, if any, should be taken to improve them. It's also a time to redo your graphics or web site, and take any steps to improve your company image.

Under these circumstances, with the potential for war on the horizon, and military action appearing imminent, businesses may need to take very unusual actions to protect their finances. Should businesses put some of their reserves into crypto currencies, gold, or silver before this time? It's a serious question to research for your company. If you decide to do this, do it as soon as possible.

Take Action Now!

NOW is the time to take action! Start your new projects in March and April. Don't delay another day. The last really good day I can find is May 1st. That's a Saturday, and it will work for some things, like starting a trip, or some promotions. However, it won't work for the new starts that need a Monday – Friday.

May is highly problematic. There are some good days in May, such as May 5th and 6th. However they're during the 3rd Quarter Moon, when the structures are not in place for new starts. Once the New Moon arrives on May 11th, there are no good final results until evening on Friday, May 14th, and Saturday, May 15th. You might get by with one of those days, but for most business applications, they won't work.

The following week, there are no good final results until the afternoon of May 20th. By that time, the confusion / deception factor (Mercury square Neptune) is extremely strong and it won't end until July 11th. Worse yet, by May 20th money is dissipating or may be stolen (Venus square Neptune). That cycle doesn't end until June 1st. Plus there's a tendency to over-expand (Sun square Jupiter) and then not be able to pay for it (Venus square Neptune). Do NOT start something important in the latter half of May.

Before June 1st though, Mercury retrograde starts May 29th and ends June 22nd. Immediately after that the war energies start.

It's still very rough through the afternoon of July 11th. There are a few good days in July, not much in August, and then it's September. Early to mid-September, there are some good days, and then Mercury retrograde starts again on September 27th – October 18th. There are some good dates in November and early December, then Venus retrograde begins on December 19th through the rest of 2021.

Do you see why NOW is the time to take action? All the planets are moving forward, so there's no resistance to accomplishing anything. Don't let any thought stop you. You just need to start it! Now through April (or May 1st if you can use a Saturday) you can accomplish anything very quickly and effectively. If you don't know how, use the process outlined in my article, How to Create Anything. Done correctly, the Universe will deliver what you need very fast, often within hours or days. I cannot emphasize this enough. Start now!

Where's the Economy Headed?

At the time I'm writing this (late March), we're barely three months into a new economy for the next 179 years. This new economy (an Air economy, instead of the Earth economy we had since 1842) might or might not continue to work with some of the established cycles we had for the Earth economy (such as the McWhirter Nodal Cycle), and we won't know that for a few more years. This assessment is based on USA cycles, the Jupiter-Saturn cycle, and secondary, economic cycles.

The first thing to understand about the economic measurements is that they're false. No matter where you look regarding the economy, the information is fake. There are massive losses which don't show up in the numbers. Due to Covid and the new rules that banks can't foreclose and landlords can't evict, there are now over eleven million homes that are behind on mortgage payments.

Couple that with the ten-year Treasury bonds, which have lost 35-40% in value over the past year via higher interest rates). These bonds are used as collateral for loans, and now the collateral has diminished in value by a substantial amount. Or consider that the average mall in America is now appraised at a value that's 60% lower than it was a year ago. That means the value of those malls is only worth 40% of what it was a year ago! That collateral has plummeted. Or consider that only 14% of New York City's office space is in use. That collateral has dropped like a rock!

Although the spot price of gold continues to remain low, the price you pay to buy an ounce of gold is between $150 to $200 higher than the spot price. Silver is similar. You'll pay $5 to $10 more per ounce than the spot price (which is around $25 per ounce) for an actual, one ounce silver coin. These prices give you an indication of how stable or deteriorating the value of the US dollar is. As the price of physical gold or silver goes up, and the price of Bitcoin goes up, people are exiting the financial system to some extent to protect their wealth.

In summary of these few measures, the collateral behind a great deal of loans is collapsing. Why should you care? Because the basis or foundation of the financial system is collapsing under debt that can't or probably won't be repaid. This is true all the way from the federal government, state and local governments, commercial debts, plus consumer or individual debts.

The economic cycles are the following:

- The Jupiter –Saturn conjunction in Aquarius was square to Uranus: This indicates twenty more years of economic and social revolution. (20 year cycle, just getting started) This is the second, consecutive time we've had this cycle, which occurred the first time in May 2000.
- Saturn square Uranus all of 2021: This cycle indicates major structural changes to the economy. A lot of these changes are challenging. However, some are necessary for the new economy to get going. New or suppressed technologies need to be released so the new economy can get a foothold.
- Uranus in Taurus: This cycle indicates major changes in currencies and the financial system are afoot. This is a seven-year cycle, which continues through April 2026. During this time, Jupiter will sextile Uranus in early 2022 and conjunct Uranus in 2024, providing unexpected growth for the new economy. Saturn will sextile Uranus in 2025, providing more stability.
- Pluto in Capricorn: This cycle indicates the consolidation of power within the economy and governments. Governments and powerful people or organizations will take as much power as they're allowed to get. This continues until Pluto moves into Aquarius in March 2023.
- Pluto sesquiquadrate the North Node: This occurs March 30th – July 25th and indicates an entrenched debt issue that's challenging for the economy. Remember the value of collateral collapsing?
- Saturn trine the North Node: This cycle continues to be in effect from the beginning of March to the end of November. This cycle indicates support to stabilize the economy, especially in the new direction (North Node in Gemini, and Saturn in Aquarius support the new Air economy).
- Note: IF the McWhirter Nodal Cycle still works (UNKNOWN!) then the economy would be headed in a downward mode. That cycle hits the low when the North Node is in Aquarius, which will occur next in late July 2026. It's in a downward mode until then.

The USA economic cycles are the following:

- Jupiter trine the USA Venus: This indicates a lot of money moving through the economy. It occurs this year for two short months from mid-May to late July. It occurs next from very late December 2021 through January 2022.
- Jupiter trine the USA Jupiter: This cycle is favorable for expansion and growth. It occurs at the end of December 2021 through February 2022. Jupiter will also sextile Uranus in February 2022, which is helpful for new or suppressed technologies to get released or started.

- Solar Arc, USA Jupiter square the USA Uranus:
This cycle indicates an urge for freedom and liberty. In an economic perspective, it's disruptive. It indicates disruption of growth, which can occur for any number of unexpected reasons. Covid was in place when this cycle first started in early March 2020. This cycle continues for another year until early March 2022. Fortunately, this cycle is waning, but is in range.

Together these cycles indicate that the USA is still in the midst of a major changeover in its financial system and economy. Basically you're watching the collapse of the old system, while a new system is trying to be introduced and stabilized. If you have any savings in dollars, or as stock investments, now is a good time to put some of your savings into gold or silver coins, or other items, such as paying down debt, buying storable food or preparation to grow your own, or purchasing a car, or parts and services for it.

I would recommend buying property and it could still be a good purchase to make this year, depending on your circumstances. However, based on a number of reports from highly skilled doctors, virologists and immunologists, it looks as though there will be a massive number of people dying from the vaccines within the next year. This could drop the price of houses and commercial property by a substantial amount, depending on your location and the number of people who took the vaccine in your area. Farmland is always a good asset!

What's Happening to the US Constitution?

The US Constitution was signed by 38 of the 41 delegates to the Constitutional Convention on September 17, 1787. It was ratified by the ninth state (NH), the number required to be fully passed, on June 21, 1788. The government was started under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights beginning March 4, 1789. All of these dates are related to what's happening with the US Constitution now. I looked at three sets of cycles for each date (secondary progressions, solar arcs and transits for July 4th) to get a clear idea of the forces at work.

We've been watching the US Constitution be chiseled around the edges for over twenty years. That became most apparent with the passage of the Patriot Act after 9/11. We lost habeas corpus at that time, so anyone can be detained indefinitely without charges. We also lost the privacy portion of the Bill of Rights and any requirements for a search warrant in order to surveil someone. Our rights were further eroded with the passage of the National Defense Authorization Act around 2011. That one removed all property rights. Now all property can be seized by the federal government just by declaring an emergency. Gun rights and freedom of speech have been under vociferous attacks in the past few years.

Now the cycles look like there's a frontal assault on the structure of our Constitution. The overhead cycles (transits) for July 4th with the chart when the US Constitution was signed by the delegates shows major disruptions and "warfare" related to the transformation of the Constitution (Mars opposite the Constitution Pluto, Uranus square it, and Saturn conjunct it).

This set of cycles could suggest that the military may get involved in defending the Constitution from major disruptions, radicals, or foreigners who wish to deny our freedoms. Some of these cycles start coming in range May 2nd. They peak at the end of June and early July. They remain in range through most of July and Uranus stays in range through October 24th.

The other serious cycle is one that's been in range since about early February 2021. This cycle will peak in early February 2022. It will stay in range through early February 2023. It's associated with the dissolving of the structure of the Constitution. Possibly, it might suggest the reclamation of the Constitution to match the founding principles and the American vision for the future. If that's what occurs, there will be quite a battle for that.

The Ratified Constitution chart has similar issues to the signing date of the Constitution. The cycles overhead for July 4th with this chart shows a legal battle related to the Constitution. (Mars conjunct the Ratified Venus, Saturn opposite Venus, and Uranus square Venus, with the Ratified Venus ruling both the courts and the body of the Constitution and the financial system in that chart.

A second cycle related to chaos associated with changing the structure of the Constitution is also in play (Eris opposite the Ratified Saturn). This cycle peaks in late November 2021 and stays in range through November 2022. Fortunately, the Ratified Constitution chart also shows strong support for the Constitution and the President through August 2021.

The chart under which our current government started with the present Constitution has a set of cycles that could suggest military action to support the Constitution (solar arc Saturn and Sun trine the natal Mars of the starting government). That set of cycles could also suggest strong support from the President. The Saturn-Mars cycle peaks in late June. That cycle stays in range through June 2022. The Sun-Mars cycle peaked last August 2020. That cycle is in range through July 2021.

On the other hand that chart also has a cycle associated with the transformation or devastation of the identity of the Constitution (solar arc Pluto square the natal Ascendant). That cycle will peak in October 2021 and remain in range through October 2022.

Judging from all these charts and cycles, the US Constitution will be under attack through this year and 2022, in one form or another. Vigilance and action will be required to maintain our Constitution or reclaim the original one.

Are Cancel Culture and Censorship Indicated in the Cycles?

The short answer to this question is YES! This issue shows up in the US chart with Pluto opposite the USA Mercury. Although this cycle will eventually lead to the transformation of the media and big tech/social media companies, it starts with censorship, which has evolved into the Cancel Culture.

When Julian Assange was arrested from the embassy in London, Pluto was also opposite his Mercury, ensuring his silence until that cycle passes. For the USA chart, this major, censorship cycle (Pluto opposite the USA Mercury) will come back in range in late July and remain in range through mid-December of this year.

There are other cycles which also suggest free speech is under attack. Eris, the goddess of war is sitting on Mercury in the chart for when the Constitution was signed by the delegates. This is definitely part of the Cancel Culture cycle, attacking anyone with a different opinion. That cycle will peak in mid-September and stay in range through mid-September 2022. This suggests that free speech will continue to be under attack through then.

That chart has another cycle suggesting a battle for free speech (progressed Uranus square progressed Mercury). This cycle will peak in late September 2021 and will be in range for another year after that. We're seeing the impact of this cycle with new social media and video platforms popping up all over (Brighteon, Parler, Telegram, Gab, Rumble, Bitchute, etc.). This will continue to occur under this cycle. Brighteon is also adding live streaming to their platform soon.

In the chart for when the Constitution was ratified, Mercury is being squared by the progressed Neptune. This suggests the erosion or dissolving of free speech. It also suggests the media lying to us and deception via the big tech companies. This is the cycle associated with Amazon deleting books they used to sell, including the Dr Seuss books. Although this cycle has already peaked, it will continue for a few more years. This is a very slow cycle.

Together these cycles suggest a much longer period is ahead of us to regain free speech and overcome Cancel Culture.

What Do the Planets Say About Vaccines and Covid?

Vaccinations are related to the immune system, and the planets most associated with that are Neptune (related to both hormones and the immune system) and Uranus (foreign invaders). In addition, the asteroid/comet Chiron and the transneptunian Hades are also related to health in general. Challenging aspects between them can indicate health issues. Toxins are related to Pluto, the sign of Scorpio, Neptune, and Saturn. During the early part of 2020, the Saturn-Pluto conjunction represented the Covid virus. We won't have another Saturn-Pluto cycle for years.

Challenging cycles between Mars-Neptune (lack of energy, lowered immunity) can also indicate health issues such as colds, flu, or low adrenals.

Transneptunian factors, such as Hades, have a one degree range. A planet's aspect to a transneptunian must be within one degree of exact to be "in range" and effective.

Between March 12th and April 17th, a cycle associated with health challenges (Chiron square Hades) is in range. It's possible that's related to the Covid virus. However, it could also be a health challenge related to the vaccines. Between March 27th and April 22nd, there's a different cycle (Mars square Neptune) which could suggest colds or flu being passed around. That might also represent challenges from the Covid vaccine.

In the USA chart, Neptune is square the USA Mars and opposite the USA Neptune. This is a seriously bad cycle for the country. It suggests deceptive actions related to the vaccines and or the country's health in general. The country's energy (including oil, gas, electricity) is weakened and dissipated with this cycle, in the same way that a person's energy is impacted. This cycle stays in range through April 23rd. Then it returns again August 31st through February 22nd, 2022. It peaks for the last time on January 22nd, 2022.

In addition, the other cycle of Neptune opposite the USA Neptune is also challenging financially to the US, as well as suggesting a strong potential for deception. This cycle is in range now and peaks on May 1st. It will stay in range through September 28th, 2021. It comes back in range on January 30th, 2022 and remains in range through March 27th, 2022.

These cycles suggest we'll be dealing with the effects of the vaccines and the virus through this year and into next year. There are numerous reports of deaths and severe health impacts within days of taking the vaccines. Based on a number of reports from highly skilled doctors, virologists and immunologists, it looks as though there will be a massive number of people dying from the vaccines within the next year or so, and these cycles may represent this situation. Dr Sherry Tenpenny has a video with an explanation of why the vaccines cause death and severe health impacts from Antibody Dependent Enhancement (ADE) and other aspects of it.

Summer Solstice: Preview of Q3

The Summer Solstice occurs on June 20th, 2021 at 11:33 PM Eastern time (8:11 PM Pacific time). This chart provides a preview of the coming three months until the Fall Equinox in late September.

This chart is highlighting growth for the USA (Sun trine Jupiter, Jupiter in the 1st house). However, it's somewhat delayed (Jupiter is intercepted), so perhaps the growth will show up in a few weeks or next month.

At this time, the public is angry and anxious to have more freedom (Moon opposite Uranus and square Mars). This set of cycles also impacts the finances of citizens and of the country. It may be that the public has had an unexpected surprise that wasn't liked, possibly a financial surprise.

In addition, another cycle suggests plenty of confusion, misleading or misunderstood information, or outright deception (Mercury square Neptune). This can come to you from the media, via social media, or big tech's latest censorship. This cycle is in range from mid-May through July 11th. Since it's part of the Summer Solstice chart, these energies will be with us until the Fall Equinox. Mercury is still retrograde for a few more days, so we may be rethinking major decisions all summer.

The US appears to have significant debt issues at this time (Venus opposite Pluto, Venus ruling the 8th house). It's definitely NOT the time to take on more debt! Wait.

In addition, the cycle of the year, Saturn square Uranus, is very close at this time, having just peaked six days earlier. This cycle is related to the major structural and process changes occurring throughout the world. You may be reconsidering which processes or structures you no longer need or you may want to upgrade your technologies to a new level. The summer may be full of changes and misinformation about them.

There's also a relatively unusual cycle, which indicates opportunities for "fringe" people and work to become more mainstream. If you do energy work, or use innovative techniques in your practice, this is the time you may hit your stride. Or you may decide to start a company and do this work full time if it's been a part-time practice until now. This cycle (Saturn sextile Chiron) is normally related to mainstream jobs. This time Saturn is in Aquarius, making the unusual become more mainstream.

Reader's Corner: Questions and Stories From You!

Q. Since the second quarter is not so good to start something, what can we do? For example, if we want to run another class during this time, would a class that we've offered already be OK? And if we cannot start any new projects, what do you recommend we do with our time?

MSG in NY

A. First, I want to mention what counts as a "new start" when you're using the Good Timing Guide. This is covered on page 8 in the Guide each year. The definition of a "new start" is the point of no return, or finality, or when you can no longer decide not to do it without consequences. It's an action you're taking that's required to start a new project.

Examples include launching a new product, signing a contract, starting a company, hiring a new person, launching a marketing or ad campaign, purchasing something important like a car or property, starting a job, getting married or having surgery, the first appointments of new clients, or sending an email blast/ social media post. See page 8 in the Good Timing Guide for more examples.

When you're working on or finishing up a project, or discussing ideas for a future project, those are not "new starts." When you're researching possible ways to proceed, that's not a "new start" either. Many projects take 3-6 months or more to complete. Once you start a project, the energies of that date and time (when you started) unfold over the lifespan of the project, as you proceed.

Second, April is part of the second quarter, and that's the month to take action! Get your most important new starts begun during April if at all possible. If you want a homerun, get a custom timing, so the finances and other factors are optimized for the type of situation you have.

Third, second quarter does include Mercury retrograde. You can certainly re-offer classes you've already taught. You may decide to re-promote existing products or contact customers who haven't purchased from you in a long time.

However, this particular Mercury retrograde in June and very late May is probably best used for research. That's because there's a LOT of confusion, possibly due to many opportunities or not knowing what to believe. You may have many different ways you could proceed and not know which path to take. The right people to assist you may not have shown up yet or you may be unclear on what you want to accomplish. That cycle (Mercury square Neptune) is in range mid-May – July 11th.

Of course you can re-promote existing products or classes during that time to keep revenue flowing in. The more important task of this period though is to review, research and reconsider your options for any decisions you need to make. Chances are you won't gain clarity about those decisions until after July 11th. Don't try to push the river!

Q. Given the war energy patterns for the end of June and early July, what are your recommendations for mitigation? MD in NH

- A. On a personal level, all energies can be used positively and negatively, whether they start out as "good" or "challenging". It depends on the consciousness of the person and their natural tendencies in how they typically react to challenges. No doubt you've heard the saying, "Snatching defeat from the jaws of victory!" That occurs when someone has misused good energies.

In the case of the war energies, at the personal level, these energies can be used to have a personal breakthrough. That means you would make a different choice from a pattern you typically follow when challenged.

Since these war energies are volatile (Mars square Uranus), one type of breakthrough would be NOT to explode immediately and instead, think about the best approach to discussing your reaction to the situation, so you get the best response (Mars opposite Saturn). By the time that's done, you may be calm enough to get a more effective result.

On the other hand, if your normal reaction to anger is to stuff it, then your breakthrough would be to express it quickly. The more people who choose to have a breakthrough the better it is for relieving the pressure on the war energies to create war on a national scale.

A different type of question is how to mitigate the war energies on a national or global level. The answer to this question requires a different mindset. The first question to ask is why are the war energies showing up for the United States in a major way at that time? What's the purpose behind them? Is there a reason why it's important for the US to defend itself at that time?

In the video interview of Bo Polny titled The Greatest Time Point in History Coming April 2021 he mentions that whenever the US dollar is attacked or encounters a negative situation, historically war has occurred (such as when the US attacked Iraq after they stopped selling oil in US dollars). The dollar's demise appears somewhat imminent in the month of April, probably in late April, according to Bo Polny.

This begs the question of would the cabal attack the US if a new financial system is started, which would remove the financial power of the Federal Reserve and the cabal? The answer is probably yes, but we may not realize it's cabal controlled at first. Or perhaps it will be a financial attack, such as crashing the stock markets?

A different scenario could occur if Trump returns in April (as Bo Polny suggests). Then perhaps a country like China (or one of the other US "allies" that attacked the US to change the Election) would decide to attack. Both of these scenarios suggest that the war energies are related to the fight between Good vs Evil.

IF that's the case, we would want the US military to stop these attacks before they get started. That possibility definitely exists (Mars opposite Saturn peaks shortly before Mars square Uranus peaks). It's like a race to the finish line. What's unknown is that the planets involved are in fixed signs (Leo, Taurus, and Aquarius) and planets in those signs are slow to act. If the military is slow to take action, then the attack could occur before the military stops it.

The mitigation for this type of situation is to see the US military and other security departments (Homeland Security, Border Patrol, local and state police, etc.) fully effective in maintaining the safety of the US. You can "workshop" for this by using the process described in the article on How to Create Anything. It's also described in the book, Money Is an Energy Game.

It doesn't take that many people to do a process like this, to help prevent such an attack (the square root of 1% of the population). For the US, with a population of 330 million people, that number is roughly 1817 people.

These war energies could also suggest that the US has a breakthrough in being able to control and arrest the cabal for their crimes against humanity. For this reason, it's not always wise to mitigate what appears to be negative energies.

A different tactic is to thank the Universe for having already provided the highest and best outcome for these energies, especially for the United States. If the US fails to reclaim its freedom and its Constitution, it will be a huge loss to the entire world. At some point, military action will be needed in order to do that.

Q. It's clear that we're in an era of an abundance of conflicting misinformation? Do you see opportunities for clarity and truth coming up? DM in FL

A. That's a good question! Many people are exasperated with the lies being told by all the mainstream media on a daily basis. Even worse, it only takes 3–4 months of the media or a government telling the same lies for people to believe them, even when it goes against common sense.

For evidence of this, just consider the vaccine situation. The FDA has NOT licensed any of the vaccines. They're EXPERIMENTAL, never been tested on animals, and only allowed under the Emergency Use Authorization. Yet the media constantly reports it as safe, when the FDA has never said that. It will never be able to say that either, due to the many thousands of severe health impacts, including death within a few days. Common sense would tell you not to take that, but millions do.

According to the CDC numbers, you don't even need a vaccine, since the recovery rate from Covid is at least 99% without treatment. Even old people with two co-morbidities have a 94.6% recovery rate without treatment. Now that they know Hydroxychloroquine works fine for Covid along with zinc and Ivermectin, there's no reason to take a vaccine, especially an untested, experimental one that changes your DNA. Does the media tell people that? Or that the vaccine companies have no liability? NO

Research has shown that after people have been told the same lie for at least 3-4 months, not only do they believe the lies, they will fail to recognize the truth when it's presented to them. They will continue to defend the lies, even when incontrovertible evidence is presented to them. I'm bringing this to your attention, because even when opportunities for truth and clarity are available, many millions of people will fail to grasp and understand it.

How will that be resolved? Unfortunately, not by the truth being revealed, as that's already occurred via non-mainstream channels. What will happen is the people who take the vaccine will die from the Antibody Defense Enhancement reaction that attacks the body when they're re-exposed to the Covid virus or its variant. (This is why no coronavirus vaccine has been introduced in the past twenty years, as the animals tested died from that.)

Or they'll die because these vaccines stop the body's ability to fight off cancer and get cancer. Or they'll die from the Mad Cow disease, since prion contaminants have been found in some of the vaccines. (One of the main vaccine company executives recently died from this.) Or they'll die from the HIV contaminants found in some of the vaccines. Or they'll die from getting blood clots from the vaccines. You get the picture. This issue will literally die off in the next one to two years unless Med Beds are released, and some of these people are able to be saved.

The astrological cycles associated with truth and clarity are positive Mercury-Jupiter cycles (Mercury conjunct, sextile, or trine Jupiter), Sun conjunct Mercury cycles, and positive Mercury – Pluto cycles (Mercury conjunct, sextile, or trine Pluto). They occur regularly. Here are a few dates: Mercury –Pluto cycles: March 31st – April 3rd; April 28th – May 6th; Mercury- Jupiter cycles: April 16 – 18; July 8th – July 15th Sun- Mercury conjunctions: April 18th and June 10th

For more information about the censorship of the truth, and the cycles associated with that, see the article on page 14. Until late this year, censorship is likely to continue, and it could continue through 2022. We'll see how many people wake up in the next few months, especially with deception being the order of the day from mid-May through July 11th.

Q. Could you explain the difference between banks and credit unions? It sticks in my mind that having money in a credit union is a better idea than keeping it in a bank. Is this still true? Was it ever true? Does it have to do with FDIC insurance coverage or lack of it? Also, are interest rates a thing of the past?

A. I'm referring you to a good article about the differences between credit unions and banks. Basically credit unions do not need to make a profit for their members/customers. This has a number of impacts on how credit unions operate versus a bank. A lot depends on your needs, in terms of travel, and how far afield you go from your home area, and which credit unions are available in your area.

Depending on the mobile technology of the credit unions in your area, even that may not be an issue any more. Online accounts have made major strides in safety and services. In terms of your account being protected, both bank and credit union accounts are protected up to $250,000.

The other reason to be in a credit union may relate to the ability of banks to confiscate your funds if you're the customer of a bank that fails. The USA and all G20 countries passed laws which allow that to occur. Credit unions have a greatly reduced chance of failing, since they don't invest in derivatives and other risky investments.

In terms of interest rates, there will always continue to be some interest rates, even if the financial reset occurs and they stop allowing usury by credit card companies. Negative interest rates are unsustainable and will go away. With luck, the positive reset will occur and interest rates will be a low percentage again.
